DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sado et al. (4,971,748).

Regarding claims 1-3, Sado et al. discloses a polyimide molding of an aromatic polyimide resin, comprising a wall defining an opening at one end and closed at an opposite end (Fig. 1, #11) and having a depth therebetween (see col. 6, line 57), wherein the wall thickness is at most 0.5 mm (see col. 5, lines 43-45). However, Sado et al. fails to disclose a ratio of depth to opening is of at least 0.7 and a longest major axis of at least 150 mm in length with a depth of at least 0.5 mm. However, Sado et al. teaches a depth and a diameter (see col. 6, lines 56-58). Therefore, one of ordinary skill in the art would readily determine the ratio of depth to opening being of at least 0.7 and the longest major axis being of at least 150 mm in length with a depth being of at least 0.5 mm through routine experimentation depending on the desired end results as shown by Sado et al. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the applicant's invention was made to have provided the polyimide molding in Sado et al. with a ratio of depth to opening being of at least 0.7 and a longest major axis being of at least 150 mm in length with a depth being of at least 0.5mm, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art absence of showing unexpected results. In re Boesch and Slaney, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980).

Regarding claim 4, note the aromatic polyimide is a thermoplastic aromatic polyimide (see col. 1, lines 35-40). Regarding claim 5, note the polyimide has a glass transition temperature falling between 200 and 350° (see col. 2, lines 3-5) and has a degree of elongation at break of from 50 to 2000% (see col. 2, lines 40-42) at its glass transition temperature.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-5 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 1772
